Benicia is home to a deep-water port, a refinery, a charming downtown, and 7 million square feet of industrial/commercial space for business.

Location. Benicia is ideally located adjacent to the I-680 corridor and to I-80 via I-780. ??Surrounded by water on two sides and miles of open space to the north, Benicia is in the southernmost section of Solano County, overlooking the Carquinez Strait, which connects San Pablo Bay to the west and the Sacramento Delta to the east. ?

3 Economic Areas. Benicia's three distinct economic areas — Industrial Park and Port, Commercial Area, and Downtown Commercial — each appeal to a different type of business.

Businesses. Companies with a significant presence in Benicia include Valero Benicia Refinery, Bio-Rad, and Bebe. Major companies headquartered here include Dunlop Manufacturing, Insight Glass, Interhealth, and Pacific Ozone.

Operating Environment. Transparent permitting process. The Business Resource Incentive Program helps industrial park businesses reduce costs and improve efficiency.

Business Assistance. The City of Benicia has expanded its Economic Development team to better assist companies already operating here and those considering relocation or expansion. Please contact us for assistance.
